I was surprised to find there was an e-mail link for the girls and sons of Caius. I was at Caius from 1954- 1962 one of the longest periods of my life. Time goes so slowly till your seventeen after that it just flies. Well here is my life till now, After leaving Caius I started work in an engineering firm in London in the wages office. I decided after one year that it was not for me. I then joined the merchant navy mainly working on P&O and Union Castle Lines. This opened my eyes from an excluded boarding school life as of the age of six years to the realities of life. I retired from the sea when I was 23 years old and landed in Hove . I then met my future wife from Germany after marrying we lived in Hove for three years where I was working in quality control at two firms in Brighton We then decided we would have a better standard of life in Germany and I left to try my luck in Germany. For the first half year I had a permanent smile on my face not being able to speak German, At Caius I learnt French with Mr Rover after nearly seven years I could only say wee, wee ,that was easy because it was similar to pee pee in English I started work in Germany after two weeks, working with a smile doing inspection work on safety ladder systems and automatic monorail systems for car plants.. After 20 years I landed in the sales dept selling all over the world,mainly in the States and the far East. I have a daughter who is 37 years old and married, I have been divorced for the last 17 years after starting my super midlife crises . I have now turned my hobby's to breeding marigolds which don't smell and have enchanting new coloring. Pictures on request. Unfortunately my brother Billy Revell died 14 years ago after a long illness. That's how quick life is. Has anyone heard from Terry Moore or Ted Hennings ? Take care now, life is shorter than you think
